

Letter Writing – Request for Additional Resources

You are Ali Raza, a Project Manager at TechNova Solutions, a software house based in Islamabad, Pakistan. Your team has been collaborating with Ling Wei, a Senior Project Coordinator at Beijing Innovatech, a Chinese technology firm, on a large-scale AI-powered business analytics software. The project is crucial for both companies as it represents a strategic partnership between Pakistan and China in the growing tech industry.

As the project progresses, your team has realized that additional cloud computing resources, specialized AI development tools, and extended technical support from Innovatech's experts are necessary to meet the required performance standards. Without these resources, the project timeline may be affected, and the final product may not achieve optimal efficiency.

Your task is to draft a formal business letter to Ms. Ling Wei, requesting the necessary resources while maintaining a professional and culturally sensitive tone. Your letter should:

- ❖ Follow a formal business letter format, including postal details for both sender and recipient.
- ❖ Clearly explain the specific additional resources or support needed and why they are crucial for project success.
- ❖ Emphasize the mutual benefits of ensuring the best possible outcome.
- ❖ Maintain a tone of collaboration and partnership, acknowledging cultural differences and fostering a positive working relationship.
- ❖ Be persuasive yet respectful, understanding that resource allocation decisions may require internal approval from Innovatech's management.

Write your letter in a way that ensures clarity, professionalism, and a commitment to maintaining strong intercultural business relations between Pakistan and China.
